SUMMARY

Synopsis of Joint Memorial

Senate Joint Memorial 36 contains no appropriation. Enactment of the legislation would place an historic roadside marker on U.S. 84/285 between Pojoaque and Espanola to commemorate the battle of Puertecito de Pojoaque; an historic Rio Arriba rebellion attempt against Mexican government and local militia troops in 1838.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

The cost of fabricating and installing a marker is estimated at $5,000. Because the memorial contains no funding, it is expected that the historic marker fabrication and installation costs would be funded under NMDOT District 5's annual sign maintenance budget. Funding for this proposed new marker would compete with existing official Historic Markers that require replacement and/or maintenance.

ADMINISTRATIVE IMPLICATIONS

The draft marker text specified in this joint memorial would be reviewed by the Historic Preservation Division staff and the Cultural Properties Review Committee for historical accuracy and conformance to marker legend standard.
